Types of cookies

Essential cookies

These cookies guarantee the proper functioning of the website, enhance user experience, and collect information on the use of the website without identifying the visitors.

This includes storing calculator use values, the status of cookie acceptance, remembering login modes and data, the status of website notification messages and the reduced functionality Google Analytics code, among others.

Please remember that without these cookies we are unable to guarantee the best user experience on our website.

Analytical cookies

With the aim of developing our website and improving user experience, we also use cookies that enable us to collect information on how visitors use our website. These cookies are unable to identify you personally; they merely gather information such as the page that our visitor looked at, which part of the website the user clicked on, how many pages they opened, how long each session lasted and what the error messages were, if any.

Such performance cookies are also Google Analytics cookies.

Targeting and advertising cookies

The aim of these cookies is to allow us to ensure that our website displays advertisements that are interesting or relevant to you. These cookies are unable to identify you personally; they merely gather information such as the page that our visitor looked at, which part of the website the user clicked on, how many pages they opened—all this with the aim of finding out what content you are most interested in.

If you have granted your prior consent, we may use the information gathered while tracking your use of the website together with your personal data in order to enable us to tailor our marketing communication to your needs and point out offers that are interesting and relevant to you.

Other cookies

These cookies are typically from third parties and help run third-party systems that collect statistical information about users and serve targeted ads.

It is important that we do not share personal datas with third parties, even through these cookies.

We use the cookies of the following service providers on our website:

Google Adwords

Detailed information on the service is available at the following link: https://www.google.com/intl/en/policies/privacy

Facebook

How can you check and disable cookies?

All modern browsers allow users to modify cookie settings. Most web browsers will automatically accept cookies by default, however, these settings can usually be changed, thus the browser can prevent automatic acceptance and offer the possibility of choosing whether you want to allow the use of cookies each time you access the website.

Please note that since the aim of cookies is to enhance or enable the use and processes of our website, the disabling or deletion of cookies may result in your inability to use all of the functions of our website or may cause the website to run differently in your browser than originally designed.
